Recordings with Rough Cut

Exciting news! Newspathnow.com has been updated with cloud Recordings and a "Rough Cut" edit tool from VideoShip. This new tool has the latest AI searchable voice-to-text and a user-friendly interface for cutting clips. Plus all of your user created clips are automatically transcoded to your station's preferred file type and saved on your local page (along with your mobile app uploads).
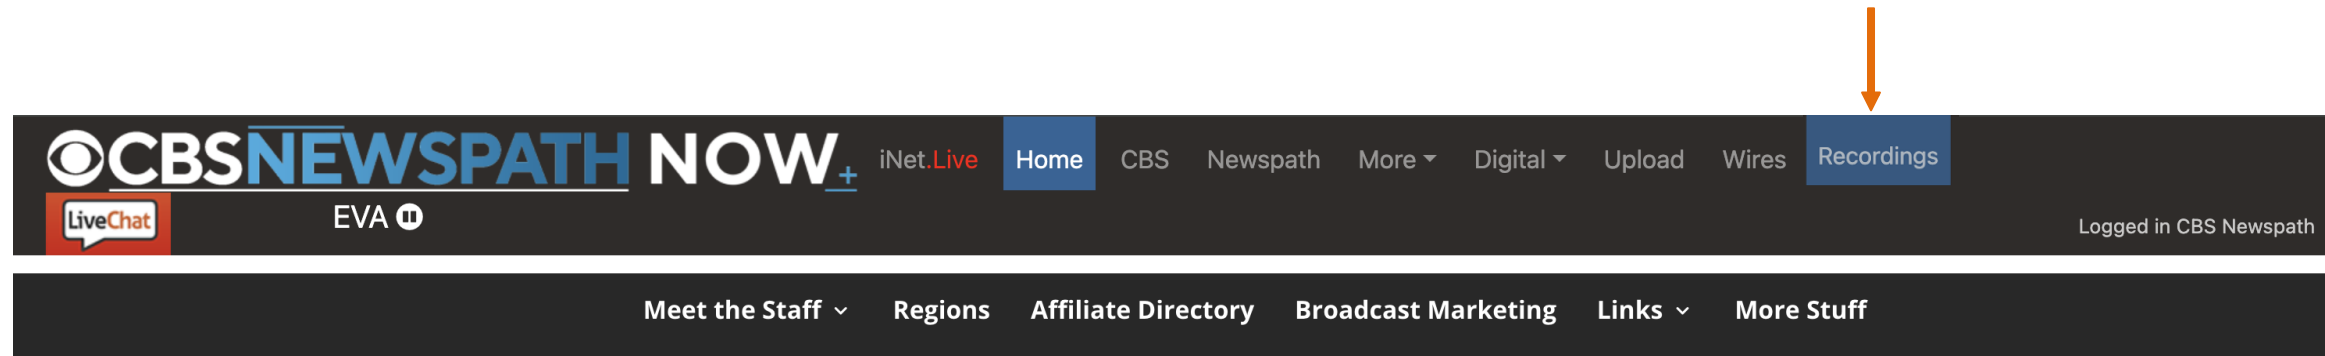

iNet Recordings and Rough Cut How-To

Choosing your in and out points

1. Scrub through and play the video or click on a point in the captions to start playing.

2. Click Select Mark In to choose your in point. Once selected your in point will show up in the Mark In window below the captions.

3. Find your out point and click Select Mark Out

4. Name your clip and save it or clear the Mark In and Mark Out points and start over. You can keep the default slug, but best practice is to rename it so you can distinguish your clip from other user created clips.

Saving and downloading clips

5. Once saved the created Clip is displayed beneath the video thumbnails. All clips created from this master are saved here until the Recording is deleted (approximately 48 hours after the Recording started). You can see all clips, not just the ones you created.

You have two options to download clips:

Download the 1080i mp4 file from the Rough Cut page as soon as the download icon appears.

OR

Go to your station's local tab (to the right of the CBS tab) to download the clip.

Your station users' Rough Cut clips are automatically transcoded to your preferred file type and will live under your local tab for 30 days .

Transcoded files are created a few minutes after the original Rough Cut file becomes available.

6. To create additional clips from this feed click Clear and start from Step 1.
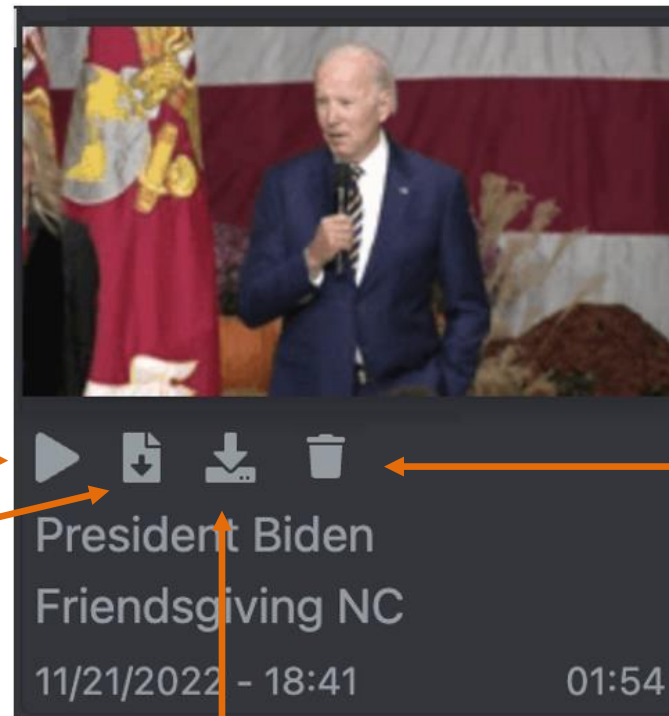

Notes: The download location on the Rough Cut page is driven through your browser settings.

Use the VLC media player if you want to view the Rough Cut mp4 file on your PC.
